PAINTING BY- REEYAH - X A

FROM THE PRINCIPAL'S DESK

Dear Parents,
Greetings!

As we now see the academic year 2024-25 unfolding at its pace, I am reminded of the profound privilege we have in shaping young minds. The essence of education lies not only in imparting knowledge but in instilling a lifelong love for learning.

At AMPS, we are committed to nurturing an environment where curiosity prevails and every student feels empowered to explore their passions. Our dedicated and experienced faculty, staff and administration work tirelessly to create a child friendly space where each student can flourish Intellectually, Emotionally and Socially.

This term, our focus remains steadfast on holistic development. Alongside our rigorous academic curriculum, we encourage students to engage in extracurricular activities that spark their creativity and build essential life skills. From sports to arts, debate clubs to community service projects, there is something for everyone to discover their unique talents and interests. Furthermore, I encourage parents and grandparents to actively participate in your child's educational journey. Your involvement is invaluable even if it just amounts to engaging in meaningful conversations about your ward's academic progress and aspirations.

As we embark on this new chapter together, let us approach each day with a sense of gratitude towards the Almighty.

Thank you for entrusting us with your child's education. Together, let's make this term filled with learning, laughter and limitless possibilities.

Warm Regards,

HISTORY FESTIVAL 2024

06.04.2024

By Niharika Grover, XII C

India is a diverse country with a rich history and unique cultures that vary from state to state. It is known for its rich cultural legacy, historic landmarks, and vibrant festivals. Indian culture, often labeled as a combination of several cultures, has been influenced by history, beginning with the Indus Valley Civilization and other early cultural areas. Gurgaon History Festival 2024 at DPS sector-45 was to make students educate through monuments made in the past, a unique initiative aimed at bringing immersive learning experiences through history with a sense of pride in our culture. Through different presentations, nukkad nataks, folk dances and songs students were taught about the heritage and culture of India. Different schools had put up stalls teaching about different Indian historical monuments like Sheesh Mahal, Deeg Palace, Qutub Minar complex etc. Different activities like pottery making, bracelets making etc were set up for the students to enjoy every bit of it.

By Ananya Mahajan, XI C

The Gurgaon History Fest was amazing! People from all over India came together to showcase breathtaking performances that beautifully portrayed our rich culture. The mesmerizing music, plays, and dances perfectly connected our culture with our magnificent monuments. Exploring these monuments is a fantastic way to delve into our ancient heritage. In DPS Sec 45 they showed us the monuments in the forms of skits, dances and/or poems so that it would be easier for the audience to remember facts about our incredible heritage.

Monuments such as Baoli Ghaus, also known as Ghaus Ali Shah Baoli, is a historic stepwell located in Mehrauli, Delhi, India. The Baoli served as a water reservoir and a place for spiritual reflection. It features intricate architectural details and is considered a significant historical structure in Delhi. The Sheesh Mahal or the 'Palace of Mirrors' in Patiala (Punjab) was built by Maharaja Narinder Singh (1845-1862) behind the main Moti Bagh Palace. The students did an amazing job performing a song about Major John Etienne. He was a fearless officer who served Begum Samru for a remarkable 35 years. It is truly inspiring to hear about his unwavering dedication. Unfortunately, Major Etienne's journey came to an end in 1821. The music added so much excitement to the performance, bringing the captivating tale of John Etienne to life. I can only imagine how thrilling it must have been for everyone involved. There were two major chief guests present their Mr. Pascal and his wife Mrs. Anju Jasot. They both gave phenomenal presentations about a world where the past comes alive, where ancient stories whisper through magnificent monuments and time-traveling becomes a reality. Pascal's idea about life is similar to monuments. The three parts he mentioned - physical, language, and experience - are indeed important aspects of our lives.

After that we decided to check out the stalls and dive into our history. Students from different schools shared their knowledge about the monuments and the science behind them. We even joined in on some awesome activities like pottery, bracelet weaving, and fun quizzes. The whole school was covered with decorations that made us appreciate the amazing diversity of our nation, India. It was a fantastic experience that reminded us of how wonderfully diverse our country is. We soaked up a ton of knowledge from the acts, but what was truly special was the valuable life lessons we learned from the stories. These were lessons that I don't think we could have ever gleaned from our textbooks. It was an eye-opening experience that taught us so much!

The workshop commenced with an enlightening session on astronomy, where students were introduced to the wonders of the night sky. They learned about celestial bodies such as stars, planets, moons, galaxies, and the Indian visitors to escape wherein they gained insights into the vastness and complexity of the universe.

Furthermore, the workshop transitioned into an exploration of meteoroids, shedding light on these cosmic visitors and their journey through space. Students also enjoyed the demonstration of formation of an asteroid, how these rocky fragments travel through space and occasionally enter Earth's atmosphere, creating mesmerizing meteor showers.

The highlight of the workshop was the rocket launching demonstration. Students were treated to a thrilling display of science in action as they witnessed the principles of propulsion and aerodynamics come to life.

Throughout the workshop, students were encouraged to ask questions and actively participate in discussions, fostering a spirit of inquiry and scientific curiosity. STUDENT'S CORNER

"A Summer Afternoon"

A summer afternoon - nothing else like it ever seen,

The soft breeze blows, paired with the unbearable heat.

The branches sway with the wind while standing tall, singing their hymns.

Their emerald hair, whisper secrets to the humid air.

The boiling hot pavement of the road and the secretive whispers that the children hold.

The fruits which they eat, all from the trees,

While the butterflies flutter in the gentle breeze.

The heat which wears the children down, the only solution is already found.

The persona of a mother who wears a crown,

She protects the ones who seek her out.

Some who sleep while some keep awake, in their own world throughout the day,

In the warmth and comfort of their homes, watching the others play alone.

Some do grumble at the Sun; the others thank it for being there for once.

Just another day gone by, holding memories that stay alive.

EARTH DAY SONG

धरती माँ हमें बुलाए,
पेड़ों की छाँव में गाएं।
नदियाँ गीत सुनाएं सरगम,
हवा में खुशबू लाएं हरदम।
धरा के रंग बहारें हैं,
हमें रक्षा इसकी करनी है।
जीवन का आधार है ये,
आओ मिलकर वचन धरें।
पंछियों की मधुर धुनों में,
फूलों के मुस्कान में।
प्रकृति की हर कहानियों में,
जीवन की पहचान हैं।
