FROM THE PRINCIPAL'S DESK

"It is often the small steps, not the giant leaps, that bring about the most significant change."

Dear Parents,
Greetings!

As we gear up for the upcoming Annual Examinations 2023-24, it is pertinent to analyze our strong and weak points. We also need to review how constructively we worked during the session. Periodic assessments of our students' progress give us a true picture of their potential and help us be future-ready.

While exams are important, the stress that we add to it is totally unnecessary. Success and failure are just incidental, and do not define one's potential. By exercising a little care, we can diminish the stress factor.

I advise all our students to prioritize their time wisely by creating a study schedule and fixing achievable targets for each day.

It's essential to review the study material thoroughly, focus on understanding key concepts, and practise with past exam papers. Never forget, a neat presentation of the answer sheet can be a real game-changer.

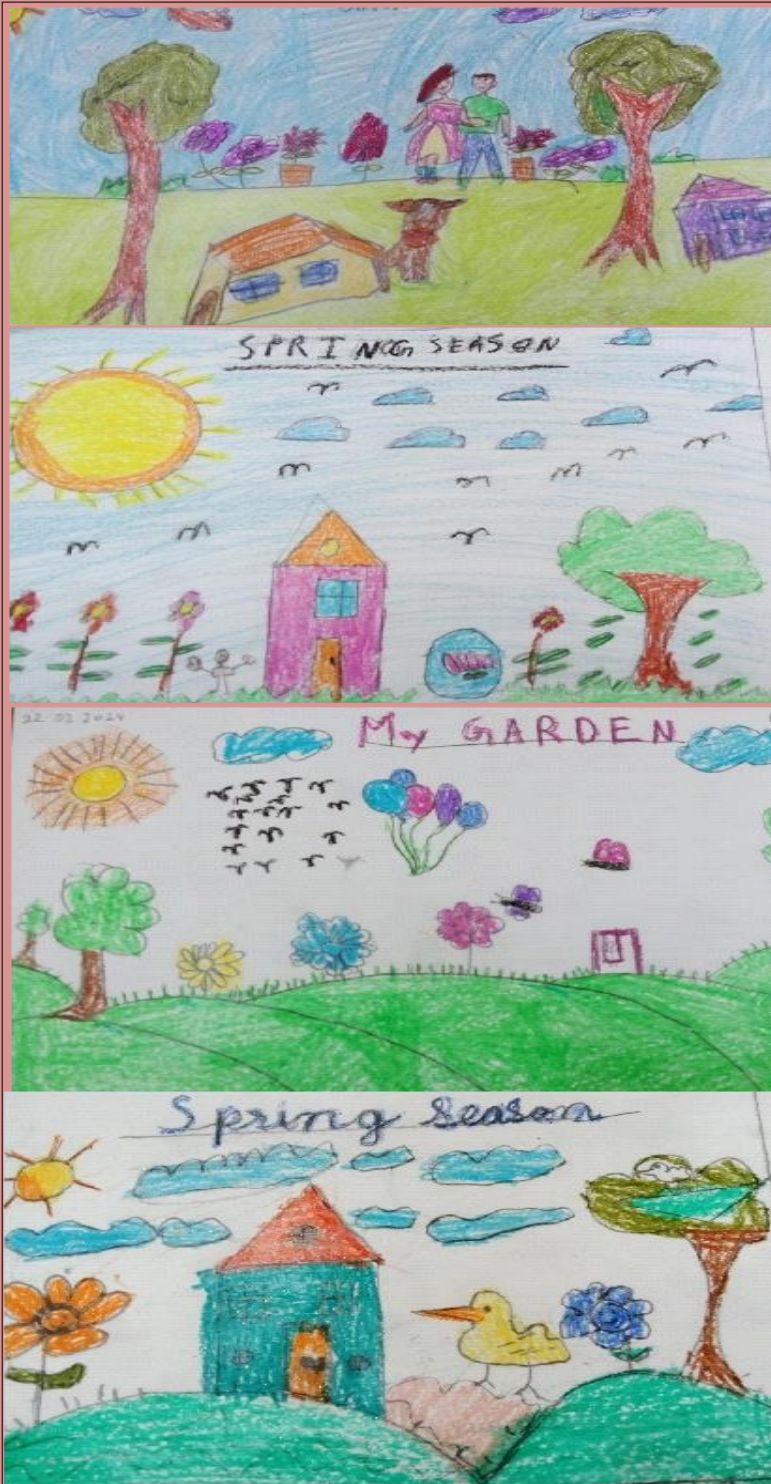

Hard work is necessary but it is also vital to get enough rest. Eating healthy and staying hydrated are as important as studying hard. Lastly, my students must stay confident all the time. Criticizing or questioning their abilities shall only dampen their spirits. We must avoid that as parents and well wishers.

I thank once again for entrusting us with the guidance of your bright young minds.
The AMPS Family wishes them best of luck for their exams!

Best Wishes,
Roopali Kudesia
Principal
